Department of the Premier and Cabinet

After seeing the unique graphic concept that On Creative devised for the SA Department of the Premier and Cabinet's Economic Priorities Booklet, the Department realised that the simple picture-frame graphic had extraordinary ability to expand across a much greater variety of applications, allowing different pieces of communication to be linked in a singularly recognisable manner.

The consistent graphic of the frames – itself inspired by the South Australia branding – was adapted into press advertising, info-graphics, websites, and prospectus documents showcasing South Australia to various countries.

From there, it was also taken on for tactical purposes such as the France/South Australia Partnership, reflecting its easy customisation and far-reaching flexibility.
